The image shows four vertical, carved timber totems standing in a lush, green forest. The totems are made of wood and feature intricate, flowing, and organic designs. The central two totems are a dark reddish-brown color, while the two on the sides are a lighter, golden-brown color. The designs on the totems include swirling, flame-like patterns and small, round, protruding elements. The background is filled with tall, thin trees and dense foliage, creating a natural and serene atmosphere.
